

Planners Refuse C-1b Recommendation for Section 14

Council Approval Expected

Palm Springs Planning Commission Wednesday afternoon rejected a plea from the City Council and voted against the recommendation of the planning director, Hy Raney, to re-zone three quarters of a mile from R-3 to C-1b along Tahquitz Drive through Section 14.

The commission, holding to its belief that the C-1b zoning of Tahquitz Drive "is not good planning and zoning practice," voted against two recommendations in the planning director's report.

RANEY POINTED out in his report to the commission that it had a responsibility to the planning of this community and added that consideration should include whether it was good planning, the effect of strip commercial zoning, the central business district traffic problem, the ownership problem along the extension of the street, the mandate of the voters, and the relationship of the commission to the City Council in an advisory capacity.

Although the proposed zoning is looked upon by planners as "not the best" solution, Raney recommended:

"A RESOLUTION OF approval be sent to the City Council, recommending the re-zoning to C-1b with 220 feet on the north and south sides of the right-of-way of Tahquitz Drive, with the resolution spelling out the reasons for the approval," which were described in the report.

"It should also contain a clear statement that the commission recognizes the need for the street, the desire of the people through election to install the street, and further emphasizing that it is the uncompromising position of the Indians, the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the guardians that makes the recommendation necessary."

IT WAS ALSO suggested that the resolution suggest that the rezoning should be accomplished as a series of ordinances applying to each separate parcel, or groups of parcels, as decided to the city. This would not change the zone on the parcel until such time as the right-of-way has been dedicated.

Councilman Ted McKinney took a strange stand when the matter came to a vote of the commissioners. An ex-officio member of the commission he said he was casting his vote against the rezoning of the right-of-way, but told the commission that he would vote for it at the council session.

THE VOTERS AT a city-wide election passed a bond issue for the cutting through of the main east-west thoroughfare, and the problems of the rights-of-way have been facing the city for the past four years. For almost twice this period of time the city administrators have been working with the Indians for a master plan for the section, but as fast as one is drawn up, it has been discarded. Most recent of these plans was the Gruen Plan, which called for a divided street in the center of the section.

THE CITY COUNCIL has voiced its opinion in preliminary discussion sessions to have the street re-zoned to C-1b in trade with the Indian owners for the rights-of-way.

Official action of the council is expected at Wednesday's regular session of the council.

$3,700 Donated

Translator Fund Drive Under Way

A drive for contributions to sustain local Translator stations has entered its third week with a total of $3,700 collected so far.

George Ripley, vice president of the stations, reported that this is not quite half of the necessary $8,000 that must be collected by the first of October.

AN APPEAL WAS made again for users of the Translator Stations to donate their $15 to keep the stations on the air, and if the $8,000 is reached by the end of this month, the medium can operate for another six months. The drive will continue in October to bring the funds up to $15,500 for the operation of the stations for the second six months.

If the first amount of $8,000 is not reached by the end of this month, the money will be returned to the contributors and the stations will be closed down.

THE DRIVE IS BEING made on the beginning of a change in the operation of the stations. A central control, operated from downtown Palm Springs, is scheduled to be installed so that the breaks in the programs can be made when programs are ended, instead of sometimes right in the middle of a show.

Ripley reported that some 200 donations have been made to date, and most of these have been received from all over the United States. "Many of the donations have been accompanied by notes of praise for giving local winter residents good television for only five cents a day," said the Translator official.

THE CASE BEFORE the FCC examiner has been completed in Washington, and final briefs will be presented by the attorneys on both sides by Sept. 26. Following the filing of these briefs, a decision on Translator's license should be made within a very short time. The entire future of the Translator Stations in Palm Springs will be decided within the next six months, according to Frank Bennett, president of the organization, and with the expected approval of a broadcasting license, other applications for improvements will be approved.

Dulles Calls Today for Prompt Cease Fire, 'Equitable Conditions' to End Formosa Crisis

Nationalists Shoot Down 5 Red Jets

U.S. Planes, Ships Now Under Orders To Shoot Back

TAIPEI, Formosa — (UPI) — Nationalist Sabre jets shot down five Soviet-built MIG-17 jets and probably damaged another in two separate air battles near the offshore Quemoy Islands, the Nationalist air force announced officially tonight.

An air force communique said that the American-made Sabre jets also sank three Communist PT boats and damaged a fourth while flying cover for a convoy that again carried supplies to Big Quemoy.

THE AIR FORCE said its planes suffered no losses. All were flown by Nationalist Chinese airmen. But U.S. Air Force planes and surface vessels were on convoy escort duty in the Formosa Strait with orders to shoot back if attacked.

The latest aerial and sea battles took place after two Nationalist LSTs, each capable of carrying 1,300 tons of cargo, landed their supplies on the beach at Big Quemoy under a rain of about 1,100 red shells.

THE CONVOY WAS escorted to the Quemoy, where an estimated 90,000 Nationalist soldiers and 40,000 civilians depend for survival on seaborne supplies, by Nationalist and U.S. Navy surface craft. Overhead, Nationalist and U.S. jet planes flew cover.

As the convoy returned from Quemoy, the Reds struck. The Nationalist Air Force said 30 MIGs and eight Sabres were involved in high altitude aerial duels.

The air force said a study of gun films on the Nationalist planes involved proved five MIGs were destroyed and one probably destroyed. It said those shot down burst into flames and crashed into the sea.

LONDON — (UPI) — Moscow Radio hinted today the Soviet Union might resume its nuclear tests.

OLIVER SUGGESTS 'GOLD HILLS' NAME

News of the establishing of a committee to rename the area of the Coachella Valley between Thunderbird and Indian Wells has drawn many comments from desert area residents.

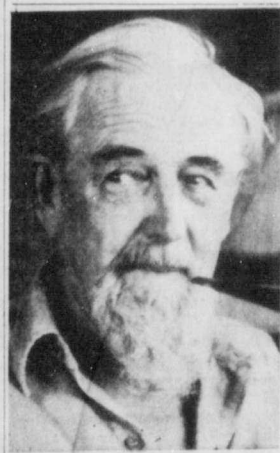

Newest contributor to the naming of the area is Desert Rat Harry Oliver, who is presenting his suggestion through the pages of his next edition of the Desert Rat Scrapbook — which he refers to as his "Stagecoach Edition."

His suggestion — "Gold Hills." OLIVER POINTS out that it is important that the new name be one which will "be soft and have appeal for a visitor to the desert."

He claims that the word valley is highly overworked and overrated. "Gold is strong," said Oliver. "For more than 100 years gold has been a symbol of the State of California, and here we have the sun to put the gold in the hills."

And as for the reason for using the word hills instead of valley, Oliver said, "just try to take a picture anywhere between Palm Springs and Indio without hills in the background."

ALMOST POSITIVE that someone will come up with the suggestion "Golden Hills," to this he says, "the word 'Golden' is weak like hair and flowers."

HARRY OLIVER

It is his idea to name both the area and that portion of Highway 111 the same, as in his example, "Indian Wells, Gold Hills Road, California."

Oliver said that Palm and Valley is much overworked, and asks that the name be made simple. As he said in the last edition of his paper, "simplicity of all things is the hardest to be copied."

'Teen Angel' Contest Starts, Winner to Go to Hawaii

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — An all-expense paid trip to Hawaii was today offered as the top prize for the girl who will be crowned as the "Teen Angel" of this year's DHS Penny Carnival.

Contest officials said this new prize will be awarded to the girl chosen as "Teen Angel" at the annual penny benefit for the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation.

AT LEAST 50 contestants are expected in this year's contest for carnival queen, who will be named Oct. 18. The queen is chosen by the number of votes sold at a penny each by contestants.

This year's Teen Angel will win an eight-day Hawaiian vacation for herself and her mother as chaperon. She may take the trip at any time during the year.

ALL GIRLS FROM the Coachella Valley and high desert areas, between the ages of 14 and 19, are eligible to compete in the contest.

Candidates are asked to send a recent photo with their application. Deadline for entries is Sept. 25.

New Complaint Filed Against Tallent Today

A second and new complaint was filed today against Cabazon Mayor L. Dee Tallent and Mrs. Virginia Breitweg by the Riverside County district attorney's office, charging them with violation of a section of the California Penal Code dealing with conduct "indecent to public morals."

They previously were charged with violation of the county ordinance known as the "rooming house law," and the constitutionality of this law is currently the basis of a case being heard by Superior Court Judge Hilton McCabe in Indio.

Sheriff's deputies arrested the couple late last month in the bedroom of a North Palm Springs home owned by Tallent.

UAW Turns Attention to GM, Chrysler

Union, Ford Co. Agree to New 3-Year Contract

DETROIT — (UPI) — The United Auto Workers, having gained a "non-inflationary" contract from Ford Motor Co., prepared today to turn its famed "whipsaw" on General Motors and Chrysler.

Ford and the UAW agreed to a three-year contract Wednesday about six hours after Ford workers at 86 plants and parts depots throughout the nation walked off their jobs when the negotiators were unable to agree before an 8 a.m. (p.d.t.) strike deadline.

THE SETTLEMENT, expected to set a pattern for 600,000 auto industry workers, gave the union pay hikes totaling 24 cents an hour, improved unemployment benefits, pensions and job security — the matters UAW president Walter P. Reuther called "pressing human needs."

The average Ford auto worker's wage now will be more than $2.40 an hour, with night shift workers getting a 10 per cent differential instead of 5 per cent.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER reaching the agreement, Reuther announced he would "get a couple of hours sleep and then show up at the bargaining table of another company," probably Chrysler.

Even while Reuther was getting his sleep, however, top union officials were seeking to get Ford workers back on the job as soon as possible.

REUTHER SAID HE expected most of the workers to return today but "some have local problems which must be solved before the workers return."

Kenneth Bannan, chief UAW negotiator at Ford in the absence of Reuther, sent a telegram to all Ford local presidents and building chairmen, urging them to get the workers back on the job "at the earliest possible date."

CLEMENT NAMED DINNER SPEAKER

Tennessee Governor Frank G. Clement was today named as the principal speaker for the Oct. 14 dinner meeting of the Palm Springs Area Democratic Club.

Mrs. Edward Grossman, dinner committee chairman, said the meeting will be conducted at the Chi Chi Starlite Room.

NOW SERVING HIS second term in office, Governor Clement has compiled an impressive record as Tennessee's chief executive and as a speaker prominent across the nation.

He was keynote speaker for the 1956 Democratic National Convention, held a post as chairman of the Cordell Hull Foundation for International Education and has been chairman of the Southern Governors' Conference and the Southern Regional Education Board.

WHEN HE WAS first elected governor at the age of 32, Clement was the youngest state chief executive in the country and the second youngest in Tennessee's history.

His successful bid for the governorship in 1952 was his first attempt to secure elective office. In 1953, Clement was named by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of the "Ten Outstanding Men in America," and, in his 1954 election campaign, he won 94 of the state's 95 counties.

CLEMENT, 41st governor of Tennessee, has served as a special agent for the FBI, and served in the Army during World War II. Enlisting as a private, he rapidly rose to the post of commander.

Tickets for the dinner meeting, which includes the Chi Chi show, may be obtained, at $5 each, by calling Club President Herb Hass at FA 5-7879, or Mrs. Grossman at FA 4-2264.

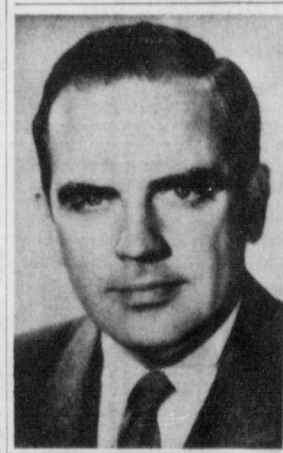

3,000 Shriners Registered For Ceremonial, Oct. 10-12

Shriners by the thousands are expected to pour into Palm Springs for the Al Malaikah Temple's week-end ceremonial visit Oct. 10.

At least 3,000 Shriners are planning to attend the weekend ceremonial gathering, at which 600 candidates will be initiated by Al Malaikah officers.

C. P. MacGregor, Al Malaikah Potentate, heads the Shrine ceremonial, arranged by the Palm Springs Shrine Club, according to President Walter Melrose.

Ceremonies open Friday, Oct. 10, with music and street dancing at the front parking area of the Desert Inn. Vaudeville acts will also be presented in a program ranging from 9 p. m. until midnight.

GOVERNOR FRANK CLEMENT

pany commander, the youngest in his brigade. Following the war, he returned to Dickson, Tenn., and began practicing law.

He was later named general counsel for the Tennessee Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, which he served four years, and later returned to his law practice, which he conducted until his election.

CLEMENT ALSO served as state commander of the American Legion and was twice named chairman of the state's March of Dimes campaigns.

Tickets for the dinner meeting, which includes the Chi Chi show, may be obtained, at $5 each, by calling Club President Herb Hass at FA 5-7879, or Mrs. Grossman at FA 4-2264.

Shriners move out to the Polo Grounds Saturday, Oct. 11, for the initiation of the 600 new Shrine members.

Still soaring to record heights, Palm Springs school enrollment was today set at 3,060 for the first three days of school.

Seizure Illegal

Farmer Gets Tractors Back

FORT WAYNE, Ind. — (UPI) — A federal judge has ordered the government to give an Indiana farmer his two tractors back. But the farmer may not get to keep them very long.

The government originally seized the tractors of Ethan Stangland, of Noble County, as a penalty for growing too much wheat.

THE GOVERNMENT also seized Stangland's $9.75 bank account, and it was this action that led to the legal technicality under which the farmer got a new lease on his tractors.

Judge Robert A. Grant ruled Wednesday the attachment of the tractors was faulty because it subjected Stangland to "multiple liability." The judge said the writ of seizure for the tractors was issued without mentioning the amount taken from the bank account.

Policy Talk Given Before UN Assembly

Warns Communist Actions Endanger Order of World

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (UPI) Secretary of State John Foster Dulles called today for a prompt cease fire and "equitable conditions" to end the fighting in Formosa Strait.

In a major policy speech in the U. N. General Assembly, Dulles said this should "eliminate provocations" and leave for later peaceful solution the Nationalist and Red Chinese claims and counterclaims.

IF CURRENT U.S. - Red Chinese talks in Warsaw fail to lead to settlement of the Formosa crisis, Dulles said, "the United States reserves the right to bring this matter to the United Nations."

He said Communist Chinese aggressive moves toward the Quemoy and Matsu islands pose "a grave threat with ominous implications" which endanger world order.

DULLES SAID THE Quemoy issue is "a simple one: Armed conquest."

"There are two indisputable and decisive facts," he said. "These are: 1. The Chinese Communist regime has never during its nine years of existence exercised authority over Taiwan (Formosa), offshore islands.

"2. The Chinese Communist regime is now attempting to extend its authority to those areas by the use of naked force."

THE UNITED STATES, Dulles said, hopes that a peaceful solution be found.

"Talks are now going on between the United States and Chinese Communist ambassadors in Warsaw," he said. "We seek a prompt cease fire and equitable conditions which will eliminate provocations and leave for peaceful resolution and different claims and counterclaims that are involved."

Dulles said the U.S. did not ignore the argument that the Chinese conflict is "civil war" or that the offshore islands are physically close to the Chinese mainland.

"But we can scarcely accept the view that nations are entitled to seize territory by force just because it is near at hand," he said.

JOHN BABBAGE, candidate for Congress from the 29th Congressional District, met with members of the local GOP Assembly at the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan board room Tuesday night and announced that he was not "either backing or opposing Proposition 13—the State Right-to-Work measure, but campaigning for controls on unions on a national scale."

Scorpion Car Club Commended for Aid to Stranded Pasadena Girls

Four boys, members of the Palm Springs Scorpion Car Club, were in for "thanks" and deep appreciation from four girls who were "saved" on a lonesome stretch of highway along the coast.

Nancy Bangert of Pasadena sent a letter to the Palm Springs Police Department (to be forwarded to the club) in which she wrote:

"I WISH TO WRITE a letter of gratitude to you on behalf of the Scorpion Car Club. Over the Labor Day weekend, three friends and I decided to take a trip to San Diego.

"While driving along the 101 Highway near Camp Pendleton, our car, of which I was the driver, started smoking. We pulled off the highway and vacated the car which had smoke pouring out of the hood.

"Being four non-mechanical and panicked girls we could do nothing more than just stand around looking at it, expecting it to blow up any minute.

"IN A SHORT TIME, a car drove up behind ours and four boys jumped out and came to our rescue. They knew exactly how to handle the situation and what was wrong. They tore out the floor matting which was on fire and soon had everything under control.

"Also, they were going in the opposite direction and had to circle back in order to come and help us.

"I shall always be grateful for their kind act.

"I had heard of car clubs before but certainly never appreciated them until this time.

"UNFORTUNATELY I didn't get the names of our 'good Samaritans' but they did give us the Scorpion card. I hope it's alright with you that I wish to keep it for a souvenir. Thank you again."

Local car clubs are organized to help stranded motorists on the highways, and in the past few years have won the appreciation and thanks of many thousands of motorists.

The two leading Palm Springs clubs, that practice aid to motorists on the highways, are the Scorpions and the T-Timers.

Actress Lita Milan Goes to Ciudad Trujillo

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — Actress Lita Milan's forwarding address was listed today as "Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, care of General Trujillo."

Her agent confirmed Wednesday that the 24-year-old "Lady in Red" left sometime last month for the Dominican Republic after completing her part in the film, "I, Mobster."

THE BROOKLYN - born beauty was one of the figures in a swirl of publicity which accompanied the free-spending stay of Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr. in filmland. He is the son of Dominican strongman, Rafael Trujillo.

She was called the "Lady in Red" when she slipped aboard the young general's yacht one night in a clinging dress and accompanied him on a sail to San Diego.

Later, Lita was called the "Lady in Green" when she took another yacht trip with "Ramfis," her nickname for Trujillo, and wound up in Ensenada, Mexico.

THERE WERE RUMORS then that Trujillo and Miss Milan had thought of getting married but the general, father of six, denied the reports.

Later, when the generous general had sailed homeward in his 350-foot personal man of war, the Angelita, the actress was reported to have met him in cities in Mexico and South America.

'Real Estate Business Good,' Edith Eddy Ward

INDIAN WELLS — Edith Eddy Ward announced today that the real estate business in the valley has been very good, and reported that her office has handled a total of more than $250,000 in sales through the three summer months.

Credited with a good number of the sales were Vera Gordon and Bill Phillips, salesmen in the Ward office.

Veteran saleswoman Charlotte Steward, who was on an extended vacation during the summer months, has returned and is at her desk at the office.

Mrs. Ward also announced that Dick Coffin and Charles Pelgram, real estate salesmen, are no longer associated with the Edith Eddy Ward office.

Eisenhower Places 'Stay or Quit' Decision Directly Up to Sherman Adams, Report

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Republican sources said today they expect Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams to resign shortly on the basis of word from President Eisenhower putting it squarely up to Adams whether he stays or goes.

The expectation is that the embattled Adams, under fire for his gift-taking relations with Boston millionaire textile tycoon Bernard Goldfine, will quit by this weekend.

INFORMED SOURCES said Adams received direct word from the vacationing President this week that it is entirely up to Adams whether he should resign.

These sources said the President and his aides are determined to do nothing that could be interpreted by Adams as pressure on him to quit.

These same sources noted that the President's current attitude is something less than the vote of confidence he gave Adams several months ago when he said "I need him."

formants said that when Adams goes, the likelihood is that Eisenhower will not name a single successor to his "chief of staff," but rather will spread Adams' duties among several White House staff members.

Body of Fireman Remains Missing at Train Wreck Scene

BAYONNE, N. J. (UPI) — The body of the fireman who should have saved a Jersey Central commuter train from plunging into Newark Bay — but didn't — still was missing today, leaving wide open the question of why the tragedy occurred.

Investigators had expected the body of fireman Peter Andrew would be aboard the lead locomotive of the train that ran through an open drawbridge Monday, killing possibly as many as 49 persons.

WHEN THE ENGINE was retrieved late Wednesday night, however, the body was not found. Had Andrew's body been found in the cab, investigators had hoped its position might have helped solve the mystery.

The second engine, which was in tandem with the first and was believed empty of personnel, was to be raised about mid-afternoon today.

PROBERS SEEKING the cause of the wreck also wanted to run tests on Andrew's body to determine whether, by some twist of fate, he might have suffered a seizure just before the wreck, as engineer Lloyd Wilburn is believed to have.

Autopsy reports on the body of Wilburn, retrieved shortly after accident, showed he had died apparently of a heart attack.
Hudson County Prosecutor Lawrence A. Whipple said Wednesday the train should have been stopped by an automatic derailer after it went through three warning lights but was going at "an abnormal rate of speed" and burped over 500 feet of ties and shot into the water.

Worker Fatally Burned by Brush Fire Wednesday

WEST LOS ANGELES — (UPI) A 46-year-old construction worker was fatally burned in a 10-acre brush fire Wednesday that apparently was ignited from a discarded cigarette, fire officials reported.

The dead man was identified as Edward Jackson of Los Angeles. Authorities said Jackson and two other men were erecting a fence south of the Mulholland Tunnel when the fire broke out.

The victim attempted to outrun the flames, but the fire caught up with him and burned him to death — just 20 feet short of a cleaning.

City Joins Drive To Change Law On Guard Pay

Palm Springs City Manager Robert W. Peterson will prepare a letter, directed to a special State Senate Committee, backing new legislation for the paying of school crossing guards.

At the present time the law provides that school districts "may pay no part of the cost of crossing guards."

CALIFORNIA CITIES have joined together to get the present law changed, because of its high cost to maintain the necessary number of crossing guards.

School administrators say that crossing guards are unnecessary "as far as they are concerned" because of the safety squads made up of students.

PALM SPRINGS, holding that safety is above the cost, estimated by the city manager as being in excess of $5,800 a year, believes that the school district should "at least share in the cost of the adult crossing guards."

The special state committee will meet in Sacramento on Sept. 29, when city officials will present their case to the state senators.

Five Petitions With 270 Signatures Given To Board, Seeking NPS Incorporation

Five petitions bearing a total of 270 signatures which showed dates of signing ranging from July 3 to Sept. 13 inclusive, were presented to the Board of Supervisors this week by William Shaw, attorney for the petitioners for incorporation of the North Palm Springs area.

The petitions were accepted for checking as to whether they bore a sufficient number of qualified signatures.

THE PETITIONS presented contained a description which adds 2640 acres to the boundaries given in the petition of intent to circulate a petition to incorporate presented June 16. That petition showed withdrawal of 400 acres from the area described in a previously withdrawn circulation-in-tent petition.

The description given in the petitions presented this week states that the area "includes in Township 3 South, Range 4 East the South half of Section 2, all of Sections 10 and 11, the South half of Section 12, all of Sections 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 36; and in Township 3 South, Range 5 East the Southwest quarter of Section 7, all of Section 19, the West half of the Northwest quarter of Section 20, and all of Sections 30 and 31."

AREAS ADDED in Township 3 South, Range 4 East, are the North half of Section 16, the North half of Section 17, and the South half of Sections 20, 21 and 22. Added in Township 3 South, Range 5 East are the Southeast quarter of Section 19, the Northeast quarter and the North half of the Southeast quarter of Section 30, and all of Section 31.

The petition stated that there are approximately 700 residents in the area proposed for incorporation.

"Bill, how many people are really there?" queried Supervisor Paul Anderson addressing Attorney Shaw.

"I'VE HEARD MANY varying reports," replied Shaw. "From what I've been told it appears there are well over 500 (the number required, for incorporation) maybe 580 to 620. There are 169 homes not counting those in Section 17 in which there are many house trailers. We couldn't get a count in a trailer park there because they're against incorporation and throw everyone out when they start to count."

Arriving some time after the petitions had been received by the supervisors was W. W. Miller, San Bernardino attorney, who inquired of reporters as to whether anyone had appeared before the board in regard to the proposed incorporation.

Asked what his interest is in the matter, Miller would only say that he expects to represent an unnamed group of people who are opposed to incorporation should the petitions be qualified and further steps toward incorporation be taken.

Bids Requested For New Road

Oct. 6 at 10 a.m. is the time set by the Board of Supervisors for receiving bids on the construction of Clinton Street and its intersection with 46th Avenue.

The road will serve as an approach to the new Indio High School.

FARM LAND SCARCE

CHICAGO—(UPI)—A recent study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture indicates that good farm land is becoming increasingly harder to buy.

During a one-year period covered by the survey only 31 out of every 1,000 farms were voluntarily put up for sale. Ten years ago the figure was 57 out of every 1,000.

The survey showed that 40 per cent of all farm land purchases during the year went to farmers who were adding to their holdings.

County Board Repeats Stand On Sales Tax

Another discussion on the status of the county-cities sales tax agreement was sparked this week by Supervisor George Berkey.

"I've heard implications that this board is not serious about letting the agreement drop and the sales tax continue if Corona carries through its announced intent to withdraw from the program," said Berkey. "I want to go on record as not bluffing."

"I FAVOR TREATING Corona the same as Palm Springs," said Supervisor William Jones. "I don't believe you can give privileges to one city and treat the others differently. I hope Palm Springs will join the other cities in contributing ten per cent of its sales tax collection, in which case Corona will remain in the program and all cities will be making the same contribution."

"It would be a happy solution if they would come to it," agreed Supervisor Berkey.

"I too want to see Palm Springs come in with ten per cent," said Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain.

"I'LL MAKE A motion that the board refuse to settle the issue unless Palm Springs comes into the program," said Jones.

"That hasn't been a board consideration," objected Berkey.

"If Palm Springs won't give ten per cent it won't help to allow another city to have less participation," said Supervisor Paul Anderson. "Any action by us would create more confusion."

"It's up to the cities," said Chamberlain, and there the discussion ended.

Valley Recreation District Given County Loan

Income anticipated from operation of swimming pools in the Coachella Valley this summer was not forthcoming, the Board of Supervisors was informed this week by the Coachella Valley Recreation and Park District's attorney, Alexander W. Staples of Riverside, and instead a substantial loss was incurred. The loss was blamed on increased costs.

The attorney's request for a loan of $10,000 to pay operating costs of the district until tax monies are available was granted by the supervisors, having been approved by the county auditor.

Honesty Best Policy On Television Programs

Although the current furore over the rumored "rigging" of several top money TV quiz shows is still in more or less inconclusive investigative stages, the shock waves of disturbing doubts and distrust engendered in the minds of millions of erstwhile trustful viewers will not subside for some time.

It is likely that the peak of the quiz show fad has been reached and that while most such programs are based on honest conduct, the innocent will suffer with the guilty in the rapid decline resulting from a general loss of public confidence.

The American people as a whole espouse two great principles in all forms of public criteria . . . fairness and honesty.

These basic fundamentals have long been recognized and observed by the public press.

Television, being a comparative newcomer into the field of information, education and entertainment, is now confronted with these problems in establishing a reputation worthy of public confidence and respect.

Since show business plays such a large part in TV programs, and its performers have traditionally been permitted great latitude in deception, the broadcasters admittedly have a major policy problem.

For years American audiences have paid admission to see a woman "sawed in two" when they well knew that the act and many others were clever deceptions and illusions.

But when it comes to fair play on a football field, or honesty in the awarding of prizes, American audiences insist that there be no deception.

Regardless of whether or not there are laws prohibiting or punishing the dishonest "rigging" of Television contests for the purpose of increasing viewer audiences, the public has evidenced that it will not tolerate such practices.

In the end, stooping to dishonesty is as poor and disastrous a policy in Television as in anything else.

Truth, honesty and fairness are indispensable in building lasting success.

Coattails into Hobbles

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Let me tell the jokes of an election season, and I care not who takes the polls. The 1958 campaign is forecast by these recent bon mots.

Harry Truman: proved that anybody can be President.

Dwight Eisenhower: proved that we don't need one.

MR. EISENHOWER'S absenteeism from his party, both in body and mind, appears to be the real message that has reached the GOP from Maine. The first 1958 election took place Down East while the President was serenely golfing at a New England resort, Newport, Rhode Island.

Republican port mortems now disclose a deep resentment of the Sherman Adams case. Down Easters look upon this former Governor of New Hampshire as a Puritan who went to Babylon and fell among thieves. All through the Northeast there are smarting memories of Cal Coolidge, who carried his own suitcase and took the scheduled train, scorned special privilege and extra expense, when traveling on public business.

THE EXTRAVAGANCE of the Eisenhower Administration, its tolerance of loose practices such as the Bernard Goldfine loans and gifts to Senator Paine and Adams did not loom very big before the Maine election. They do now. So do the Administration's feckless ways of foreign policy. So do the aloofness, remoteness and apparent indifference of the President to the fate of his party candidates.

For Republican candidates, it would be bad enough if the Administration's character and record were negative in the sense of being non-existent. But politics abhors a vacuum. Non-entire cannot be. Either the celebrated Eisenhower grin and the undoubted but unheralded accomplishments of the Administration are working for the party candidates — or these are working against the party candidates.

RIGHT NOW, THE latter is true. This means that a Republican candidate for the Senate, where Presidential prestige could matter most, is not merely cast adrift from the coattails of a two-time White House winner. It actually means that the candidate is in danger of being trussed up like a calf at a rodeo by these same cords.

I have some personal knowledge in the case of Senator Jack Hobbitt, Republican of West Virginia, who was appointed earlier this year to a vacancy in the upper chamber. Hobbitt, born in 1912 and a Navy veteran of World War II, is the very model of a meritorious young Republican. He was East Virginia's Man of the Year in 1956, when he was also GOP State Chairman.

LIKE RICHARD Nixon, Hobbitt was president of his graduating classes in school and college. Better than Nixon, he was captain of two athletic teams. From college onward, Hobbitt, who is a small businessman in banking and real estate, scarcely had time to draw breath between these and his non-profit jobs in the public service, particularly in education.

He served on the county school board, the White House Conference on Education, the State School Board Association, the Citizens Committee on Higher Education, the National Citizens Council for Better Schools and the State University Board of Governors.

For Republican candidates, it would be bad enough if the Administration's character and record were negative in the sense of being non-existent. But politics abhors a vacuum. Non-entire cannot be. Either the celebrated Eisenhower grin and the undoubted but unheralded accomplishments of the Administration are working for the party candidates — or these are working against the party candidates.

IN ADDITION, HE was Chairman of the Commission on State and Local Finance, and a member of the committee to investigate his State's penal and parole system. Without tediously extending the list, one can say that either party in any State is lucky to find a man like this for the ticket.

But unless West Virginians exert an extra amount of perception, the exemplary qualities in this able and energetic candidate may get jammed out by extraneous Eisenhowerism.

THE SENATOR had nothing to do with the Adams case or the Formosa policy. He worked hard this session in the interest of jobs, crops and manufacturers of his State. He did a lot of chores for the party leadership, as a junior member is expected to do. He cast a number of votes which were born of pain and travail.

Will Hobbitt get his just reward? His opponent is another personable and able fellow, Jennings Randolph, defeated in 1946 after seven New Deal terms in Congress and since then a Washington-based public relations for Capital Airlines. As a Democrat, Jennings has the almost automatic endorsement of the AFL-CIO, but the United Mine Workers under the lordly John L. Lewis have pointedly withheld their endorsement.

If other factors were equal, these two candidates would run on their personalities, political philosophies and achievements, with the advantage of the Republican's incumbency offset by the Democrat's partisan majority. But as things actually are in 1958, a good Republican will have to surpass himself to defeat a good Democrat. The West Virginia example is all too trivial.

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: I am afraid I am a little slow about getting around to writing "thank you" notes. I have been married five months and I haven't sent the "thank you" notes for my bridal showers yet. I also have not written the "thank you's" for my wedding gifts. I am expecting a baby in four months. I know there will be some baby showers for me. Do you think it would be all right if I waited and thanked my friends for everything in one note? They are all the same people.

NO WRITER

DEAR NO: Certainly not! Each gift deserves an individual "thank you." Get busy and write them!

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 17. My grandparents are invalids and very old. My parents expect me to stay here with them and not go anywhere. I know they only have a few short years to live but do you think I should give up the best years of my life, giving up parties and dates to take care of them?

OLD PEOPLE SITTER

DEAR O.P.S.: Surely you are not expected to stay with your grandparents night and day?

Someone else in the family can relieve you one or two evenings a week. In the meantime, be thankful that you are the one who is young and healthy and doing the "sitting" instead of "being sat" with.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do about a mother-in-law who walks in and out of your bedroom all hours of the night to look and see if the baby is all right? She doesn't think I am capable of watching. Don't tell us to move as we are living with her and we can't afford a place of our own just yet. Do I have to stand for this or not?

GOING CRAZY

DEAR GOING: You do not! Have a lock put on your bedroom door.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 25 years old, yet he complains if he gets less than 16 hours sleep a day. We can't go anywhere because he is always sleepy. If he worked hard it would be different but he rides around all day and doesn't do any hard work. On our wedding anniversary (our first) he did take me out but we came home at 9:30, although he didn't have to go to work until 4:30 the next afternoon. What can I do to get my husband to stay up and pay some attention to me? I never see him. Please print this. It might wake him up.

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: It will take more than a letter to "wake him up." Your husband should make haste in the direction of the nearest doctor. No man, aged 25, needs 16 hours of sleep a day.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married three years and our biggest problem is my parents. I admit they are a pretty shabby lot (morally) but they are still my parents and I can't ignore them. My husband has gotten to the point where he absolutely refuses to have anything to do with them. I don't say he is wrong. They use terribly vulgar language and ask questions that are none of their business. They have also borrowed money from him and have made no attempt to return it. But, Abby, these are my parents! How can I get him to go along with me when I visit them?

UNHAPPY

DEAR UNHAPPY: An unwilling guest makes pretty poor company. Leave him alone and visit them on your own time.

'Isn't It a Lovely Day?'

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

I've been working on the railroad.
All the live-long day.

HINSDALE, ILL.
Monday, 9-15
That's no rhyme but that's all the words I remember except "Dinah, Blow Your Horn."

WHICH LAST LINE prompted Alan No. 3 grandson to remark: "That's a funny name for a locomotive."

"What is?"
"Dinah."
"Who said Dinah was the name of a locomotive?"
"You did, you said 'Dinah, blow your horn.'"

Remindful of Mrs. G's last-minute briefing, I didn't press the point.

JUST BEFORE he left for the hospital, the doctor said: "Now, dad, if you're going to repair any wiring, please turn off the main switch first."

With that weak current, I wanted to know.

"Yes, with that weak current. After rough-housing with that energetic quartet for two days, even 12 volts might be too much. I want to get you back to mother in one piece."

Having been here only since Friday night I didn't take that as a hint.

ONE PROBLEM, or rather, puzzle was solved for me when I arrived here.

Just before being properly tagged and put aboard the train last week, I received a letter from John No. 1 grandson.

"I want to tell you about my bird, Jaycup, and the Robinson's bird Tommy. (She was miss named. They thought she was a boy for a while.) Tommy got lost and the romance between Jaycup and Tommy was broken."

SO I SAID to the doctor. "Jaycup, what a pretty name for a bird."

Turned out the bird had really been christened Jacob.

"Buz, that's John! makes an attempt to spell any word he hears. Sometimes it's pretty phonetic," said Jack.

Told him not to worry. Even the Great Chicago Tribune, (to quote the Chicago Tribune), tried phonetic spelling for a long time.

It was rather confusing to read about "frate" trans and the like.

They've quit it now although still sticking to altho, tho and thorbroad.

GETTING BACK to the basement. With the two older boys in school, Ace (that's Alan) and I had a big time. I don't know who had the most fun.

The road, free from competition from trucks and airlines, is flourishing and has been reorganized. I'm still chairman of the board but a new member has been added, Robbie, No. 4 grandson.

John is vice president in charge of operations. Bill superintendent of maintenance. Alan, yardmaster, and I think Robbie, nearing two, is superintendent of derailments. He doesn't understand why you shouldn't roll a marble down the track as a hot shot freight is hitting the high iron.

Palm Springs is far, far down the pike.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

From Dublin to Galway on the twisty Irish roads. Me and my fine, green linen waistcoat that I bought in Grafton Street.

My 15-year-old daughter looks gloomily on my elegance.

"Oh, please, please don't wear it! People will think we're tourists."

"A FINE CRITICISM from a girl who wears sack dresses," I said sharply. "It proclaims my independence and—if I do say so myself—is one of the sharpest weskits I have ever seen."

"Green linen," I said, "brings out the Irish in me. For who was it but me own grandmother O'Donoghue sang me to sleep! She wiped the froth of Guinness stout from her dear lips," I said, "and sang—"

"Oh Paddy, dear, and did you hear 'The news that's goin' round? They're hangin' men and women 'For the wearin' of the Green.'"

"YOU JUST LOOK terrible," said my dearest friend and severest critic.

However, I am a tiger when I have my mind set on a piece of clothing. I will not be intimidated.

WE HAVE run into the traveling people. A raggedy bunch with great round-covered wagons. Some people here say they are true Gypsies; others say they are pure Irish who traveled the roads for generations.

"Thinkers, they call them," I said. "They trade horses and they mend pots. Just like Gypsies. Mothers scold their children in Ireland by saying: 'You're no better but a tinkler.'"

"Therefore, children grow up politely," I said, "and do not criticize their father's fine green weskits."

THE TRAVELING people give you a great shout as you drive by. My child had a dream about them the other night. (I am regaled with the night's dream each morning. And, believe me, if I wrote like this moppet dreams, cupboards would soon be bare.)

"I dreamed I was kidnaped by the traveling people. And then I got away and went home. And my mother didn't recognize me. And my brother didn't recognize me. It was HORRIBLE. And then they did recognize me."

"THEN WHAT happened? I am on edge!"

"That's all. That was the end of the dream."

That is a pretty poor dream in my estimation. I simply repeat it to show the kind of conversation I must put up with. A man in a green waistcoat who could probably command the finest conversations in Europe.

WE HAVE LONG conversations about how soon will I die. Heavenly days, what a life! It seems I am going to cash in my chips soon—I am given a cheerful year or two. "When you die will you give me your grey sweater?" Things like that.

"My dear," I said, "I am in the rosiest of health and a broth of a boy. I intend to live for a long, long time and wear my gray sweater. And my green weskits."

"You are pretty old," she said doubtfully.

"I AM IN MY prime. I may join up with the travelin people and go from town to town in a gay sort of way. Mending pots and kidnapping children."

"You look kind of green," she said.

So that's what we are getting at. I am being worked out of my green linen waistcoat. Sharper than a serpent's tooth is an ungrateful child.

But sharper than a razor blade is my fine green waistcoat. And so we drove over to Galway. In a conversational sort of way.

VATICAN CITY — Pope Pius XII, in warning Chinese Roman Catholics that unauthorized election of Chinese bishops by Communist-sponsored assemblies was a gesture of rebellion against the church:

"He who enters not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbs up another way, is a thief and a robber."

EARL WILSON: Socialites Admire Worthy Causes

NEW YORK — "How to Have a Nice Evening in New York for Only $2,000" is to be the title of this simple, homespun essay.

First, the B.W. and I cavorted to the fall opening of El Morocco where the joint was swingin' and rockin'. Maitre D's Joe and Angelo deposited us at a table in a doorway customarily reserved for charity canvassers.

"What are you selling?" asked the people streaming in, thinking we were peddling tickets.

I wouldn't have occurred to us, but Bob Considine, at an adjoining table, printed out, on words, "Toots Shor Benefit," on a slip of paper and handed it over. Inasmuch as Toots had just become a millionaire by selling the lease on his restaurant site for $1,300,000 this was considered pretty hilarious.

The saloon set is so generous that its members donate to such things without asking questions. The only question they ask is, "Is it deductible?"

Tommy Manville, Hugh Owen of Paramount Pictures and Billy Reed of the Little Club threw down greenbacked contributions without even bothering to ask what the nonexistent charities were.

Seeing actual money on the table, we changed some of the table cards to read, "Earl Wilson benefit."

Our point was — I'm sure we had one when we started — that several monied folks give to charities without even asking what they're for.

Some of the free-givers were Diana Barrymore, sober, and 20 pounds lighter, to the extent that she says she can hardly remember what booze taste like: Scott Brady, George De Witt the TV comedian; Hermione Gingold who was also looking thin due to performing in summer stock; Roy Cohn, and Jack Carter, the TV comic, who claimed that it was so crowded that when he got up to get on the dance floor, there wasn't any dance floor.

Afterward, several of the gang went to Toots Shor's where he was calling customers "peasants" and relating how he'd been to see "Rocky."

"Graziano or Marciano?" he was asked.

"Nelsy Rocky," he replied.

"Nelsy Rocky? Since I got my check for $1,500,000, I'm beginning to feel very Republican!"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: H'wood is having its financial troubles. Executives who used to pinch starlets are now pinching pennies.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: George De Witt tells of the explorer renting camels for himself and his wife. He asked her: "Darling—one lump or two?"

Taffy Tuttle says she's heard the pen is mightier than the sword: "But I won't believe it till I see someone writing a check with a sword." That's earl, brother.

EARL'S PEARLS: Note on the spread of inflation: Even hemlines are going up.

MIKE CONNOLLY:
Measles Are Catching

HOLLYWOOD — Portland Mason, the James Mason's child prodigy, appeared on a local kiddie telethon "slightly," a set-aside aside, "under the influence of measles" and the other kids on the show caught the measles too.

Edgar Bergen's new sideline is an alfalfa ranch near Indio. I asked him what he paid for it. Said he, "It ain't hay!"

Speaking of sidelines, NBC-TV art directors Jay Krause and Welter Holden just finished redecorating the Beverly Hills Brown Derby to the tune of $250,000, including five Gargantuan Grecian urns for the Hollywood-type searchlight-on-every-corner reopening of the spot.

BING BAGGED Dean Martin for some co-moanin' - croonin' on the big Crosby spec. Call it feminine logic or what - have you, a star listed this under "Deductions on her income tax form: 'Property Improvement—Reducing Treatments, $975.'"

That old Oscar jinx again — after being nominated for the supporting actress Academy Award in "Detective Story" a few years back, Lee Grant is now understudying Anne Bancroft on Broadway in "Two for the Seesaw" . . . Joan Bennett's daughter, Melinda Markey, is calling it quits with Don Hayden, after four years and a son. Career trouble again: both Melinda and Don have acting ambitions.

ZSA ZSA GABOR is sending her daughter, Francesca Hilton, to school in Switzerland for a year . . . Frances Faye's new Imperial Records album will include a crazy chanson called "I've Forgotten Those Never-to-Be - Forgotten, Unforgettable Memories."

Imperial edict from Imperial prexy Lew Chudd: "I think we're due for a new trend in music — it's called the Under-stand - the - Lyrics School!" . . . Jacques Bergerac, flew down to Rio to join Dorothy Malone, and those bells I hear ringing are NOT a long distance telephone!

GENE TIERNEY flew back to Hollywood from Menninger's in Kansas, to take up at 20th-Fox where she left off when she had her nervous breakdown.

Dialogue from alongside the "Some Came Running" set at MGM, regarding the company's recent (and frantic!) locationing in Madison, Ind. — Nancy Gates: "I loved everything in Madison except the fried food they served. Gosh, EVERYTHING was fried!" Dean Martin: "Yeah, and just when I'm getting used to fried bourbon they bring us back to Hollywood!"

THEY'RE SO ABCROWDED with new shows here in Hollywood, the network had no room for Bing Crosby's Oldsmobile specs. But never count Crosby out — he went over to a rival network, NBC, and rented space! Yep, the ABCrosby shows will beam from NBC, and this is the first time THAT'S ever happened.

The ad agency men strewn stem-to-stern along New York's Madison Avenue are refusing to even enter the new Seagram's Building on Park Avenue. Joe E. Lewis informed me—until it's at least eight years old.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, claiming that rackets in unions could not exist without collusion with management:

Proposed Indian Wells Zone Plan Changes to Be Studied

Following a somewhat controversial but relatively quiet hearing this week on a proposed comprehensive zoning plan for the Indian Wells area, the Board of Supervisors closed the hearing and referred the plan back to the Planning Commission for consideration of some of the changes requested by property owners.

To be given further study are the following: a request by Monet Wenck for additional R-3 zoning, in the Shadow Hills Estates subdivision, which is now developing, between Highway 111 and Driftwood; deletion of 20 acres in Section 14 of Township 5 South, Range 6 East shown in the plan as an R-1 zone, requested by Herald E. Williams.

Also commercial zoning instead of the indicated R-3 on the northeast and northwest corners of the Miles Avenue and Highway 111 intersection, requested by Henry Curran; and deletion of the southwest quarter of Section 18 in Township 5 South, Range 7 East owned by C. Holdsworth who protested proposed R-1 zoning and asked to be left in W-1.

Planning Director Tyler Sues said the requested changes will be considered at the Sept. 30 meeting of the Planning Commission and a report will probably be ready for presentation at the Oct. 6 session of the Board of Supervisors.

Shelley Heath Married to Walton Scott Reid, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wayland Heath of Smoke Tree Ranch announce the marriage of their daughter Miss Shelley Heath to Lt. J. G. Walton Scott Reid Jr. The evening service took place September 12 at Emmanuel Presbyterian Church in Long Beach with the Reverend Howard Steward officiating. A champagne reception and wedding supper followed the ceremony at the Heaths' summer home on the Alamitos Bay Peninsula in east Long Beach.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gown in a princess style chantilly lace over taffeta with the portrait neckline edged in pearls and onalcent crystals. A matching crown of lace and pearls held the fingertip length veil. She carried a shower bouquet of champagne cymbidium orchids with a cascade of stephanotis and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Roger Morgan, the matron of honor, wore a pink sheath with a lace cap and carried a crescent bouquet of rubrum lilies and feathered pink carnations. The bride's mother was in dusty rose chiffon and lace, reembroidered with pearls and rhinestones. She wore a corsage of butterfly orchids. Lt. Commander Roger Morgan served as best man. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Heath at the reception were the bride's cousin Robert Van Anda and Mrs. Van Anda of Encino.

The bride was graduated from Chadwick School at Rolling Hills and attended the Universities of Hawaii and Arizona where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Following school she spent several months in Europe with a college group studying the different countries.

Lt. Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Scott Reid of Des Plaines, Illinois, was graduated from Gettysburg College and attended the University of Pennsylvania Law School where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He is also a graduate of the Naval School of Pre-flight and received his wings at the Advanced Naval Training base at Corpus Christie. At present he is attached to the aircraft carrier the USS Yorktown. Upon return from their honeymoon the couple plan to make their immediate home in Long Beach.

SEPTEMBER BRIDE Mrs. Walton Scott Reid Jr. is the former Shelley Heath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wayland Heath of Smoke Tree Ranch and Long Beach. The bridegroom is stationed on the aircraft carrier Yorktown and the newly weds will live in Long Beach. (Nola Brooks Studio Photo)

Pork Chops Stuffed

Put pockets in your pork chops and fill them with prune stuffing. To make the dressing, chop cooked prunes and combine with cubes of fresh bread, finely chopped celery and nuts. Bake in a covered pan in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. If you have any leftover stuffing, shape into balls and bake in about 15 minutes.

Old powder puffs make excellent applicators for wax shoe polish. Wash the puffs thoroughly and keep in a shoe polishing kit.

Slow Substitute

Vary the cole slaw routine with this dill-flavored spinach slaw. For four servings, combine 2 cups finely shredded cabbage and 1 cup finely shredded fresh spinach with 2 teaspoons finely chopped onion, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper, 2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise and 1/4 teaspoon crushed dill seed. Toss lightly and serve.

Low cost dress dyes dissolved in water and applied with a rag will give unfinished furniture an attractive stain.

No Tipping Is Leading Tourist Attraction in Japan

By LENORE BRUNDIGE
United Press International

(A well-known American fashion editor, Lenore Brundige of the Pittsburgh Press, has just completed a tour of Japan and the Far East. In the following dispatch for United Press International, Miss Brundige gives some of her impressions of Japan.)

TOKYO (UPI)—It's one of the most delightful tourist attractions imaginable. No tipping in Japan! What a joy for the American tourist, who has probably paid for his luggage twice over in tipping bellhops from New York to San Francisco. It strikes me the Japan Travel Bureau would do well to play up this feature to the tip-weary tourist—skipping the colorful posters of Mt. Fuji (which most don't get to see anyway, since it is usually shrouded in clouds), and just say, "Come on over to see us; no tips."

In addition to the no-tipping custom, I'm all for the hot towel custom for washing your hands. Just squeeze out wash clothes from hot water, twist them so they look like fat sausages, pile in a wicker basket and pass them around before eating. This ought to do away with the "Johnny-rush-to-bathroom-and-wash-before-dinner" routine I hear when visiting friends back home. Think I'll adopt it at my first dinner party back in Pittsburgh. On second thought, maybe not. After two martinis the guests might mistake them for hors d'oeuvres.

Taking a bath, Japanese style, is as bewildering to a tourist as trying to eat eel with chopsticks. (I tried both. Of the two, I'll take eel.)

You soap and scrub first, before getting into a tub! Then you sit in a tub the size of a small swimming pool, in boiling hot water, and soak—presumably for hours. I zipped in and out so fast my little Japanese maid was completely baffled and thought I was angry.

Anyway, she massaged me afterwards within an inch of my life—for about 60 cents American money.

It is no trick at all to get lost in Tokyo. The streets all go in circles (I think), and when taxi drivers don't understand English—you're in for a hard time. The trick, I learned, is to get someone at the hotel to write out the name of the place you want to get back to. Then the going is easy.

It is my observation that people never stop working in Japan. At the Imperial Hotel, where a new second addition is being built, the work went on all night long. The sound of building is different. In Pittsburgh, it is noisy and the boom-boom, bang-bang type. Here, it is a tap-tap, but it never stops.

To preserve vitamins, ripen tomatoes in a light place which is not too hot. Do not wrap tomatoes in paper.

"THE LITTLEST QUAKER" just released by Exposition Press is a first novel by Bessie B. Omand of Sherman Oaks, who with her husband William E. Omand spends the winters on the desert at 1000 Palms. The jacket for the new book says "This is the inspiring story of a Quaker, who, rejected in her girlhood by her father because he wanted a son, finds her life shaped by her ardent quest for love and acceptance." The novelist gave up plans for a musical career when she married in 1915.

Home From Vacationing In Alaska

Alaska — land of adventure and 49th state in the Union — welcomed two Palm Springers when they returned this summer. For Lucille Johnson, it was like a visit home for she had lived in Alaska for 15 years, and for her traveling companion, Madge Holderman, it was an exciting experience. The two women were widely feted by city officials, most of them long-time friends of Mrs. Johnson.

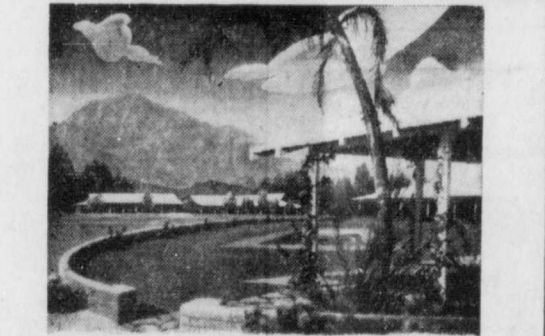

Carrying with them keys to the City of Palm Springs, obtained from Chamber of Commerce president Jimmy Cooper, the women did ambassadorial work, presenting the keys to such civic and club officials as Mayor Antone Anderson, Chamber president Richard Kennard, editor of the Fairbanks News-Miner, George Sundborg, acting Governor W. Hendrickson, Alaska Highway "at-trol Chief, Canadian Counsel, Rotary and Soroptimist presidents. The two women, both past presidents of the Palm Springs Soroptimists, were also warmly welcomed to Alaska by sister Soroptimists.

They were much feted during their visit, being entertained at a cocktail party hosted by the Chamber of Commerce, and dinner guests of Gerald Williams, Attorney - General of Alaska, and were honor guests at many smaller affairs, and were taken on sight seeing trips.

Mrs. Johnson was formerly with the Alaska Housing Authority at Juneau and Anchorage. She is now controller and treasurer of the Coachella Valley Savings & Loan Association and Mrs. Holderman is with the United States Public Health Service.

End Vacation In Northwest

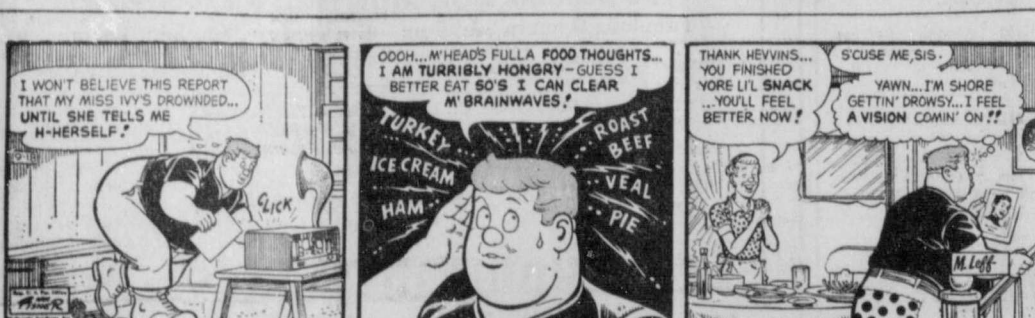

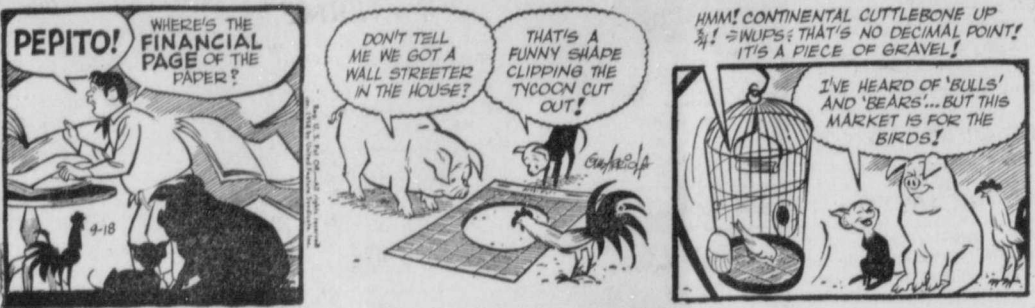

The Adolph Muellers, owners of the Green Gable apartments, returned Friday after spending two and one half months in the Pacific Northwest. They visited in Canada and since they are both ardent fishermen spent considerable time at this sport.

Enroute home they attended the wedding in Portland of Patricia Dae Hudson, daughter of winter residents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson, to Dr. Charles Nisko. The Muellers reported this was one of the largest weddings of the summer season.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

Ike's Campaign To Be 'Happy Days Here Again'

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UP) — The word today is that President Eisenhower will be singing that old time Democratic prosperity song when he goes campaigning coast to coast this fall.

The song was "Happy Days Here Again," and none ever will forget it who attended the 1936 Democratic national convention at which FDR accepted his second term nomination.

IF LABOR LEADERS and Democratic strategists are quick to challenge so optimistic a campaign theme, the President might counter that it is at least as appropriate now as it was back there nearly 25 years ago when he New Deal chorus was singing Roosevelt on his way.

More appropriate, perhaps in terms of unemployment which is the basic political measure of prosperity, recession and depression. There are fewer than five million persons unemployed in this campaign year whereas the unemployed numbered slightly more than nine million in 1936.

UNEMPLOYMENT WAS A nut which FDR was unable to crack. It took a world war to crack it for him, despite pump priming and job-making federal spending which seemed extravagantly large at the time but which was not much compared to current government outlays.

Eisenhower resisted, in the last session of Congress, Democratic efforts to spend the nation out of recession and unemployment. FDR's record was pretty good evidence that it cannot be done. Year-long, Eisenhower has been telling the public that the current slump would be temporary.

HIS ECONOMIC advisors are telling him, now, that the worst is well over, that since June most economic indicators have shown a substantial slowing of the decline and the beginning of the rise.

These advisers are confident that by late October the encouraging signs will have multiplied in number and in degree, thus enabling the President, if he desires, to tell the voters that the United States is on the way back to record prosperity.

THERE WILL REMAIN the tough and dangerous problems of currency inflation, rising prices, shrinking dollar purchasing power. All will be a long way from well on the domestic front. But Republican tacticians are hopefully confident that recession will not be so damaging to them in November as they had feared in May.

Economics is not an area of discussion in which Eisenhower feels most at home. He is likely to enter it, however, because Democratic leaders and their labor associates evidently intend that business conditions shall be a prime 1958 issue.

IT WILL NOT BE as lush an issue as some of them expected.

TODAY'S SPORT PAPADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UP) — This was just a month ago at the Old Timers Day in Yankee Stadium and the short, stocky man stood around among the celebrities like an interloper.

Photographers scurried around snapping pictures and they looked right through him. They were after "names" like Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby, Bill Terry, Tris Speaker, Joe DiMaggio and Charley Keller.

BUT WHEN THE old Yankees and the Red Sox of a decade ago caricatured through a two-inning exhibition game, it was the bubble-cheeked George (Snuffy) Stirnweiss who stole the show with a fielding play right out of the past. It was his last time on a ball field. For Stirnweiss was among those killed Monday when a commuter train plunged into Newark Bay. Yet it's nice to remember that last August the "quiet man" made his place in the sun—just as he had done so often before.

SNUFFY WILL NOT be remembered as a great ball player. A brilliant fielder, he accomplished his finest feats during the wartime era. Still, Joe McCarthy summed it up one spring when he was asked whether Stirnweiss could handle third base.

"He can play it with his legs crossed," McCarthy said gruffly. "He can play anywhere because he's a ball player."

The son of a New York policeman of German extraction and an Irish mother, Stirnweiss was a better athlete than people remember. He was one of the nation's top halfbacks at North Carolina in 1937-39 and the 5-foot, 8-inch 180-pounder scored the East's only touchdown in the East-West Shrine game.

THE CHICAGO Cardinals drafted him but Stirnweiss, who gained his nickname because he "dipped" snuff to alleviate a sinus condition, chose to accept a Yankee contract. So he went to Norfolk in 1940 and in 1943 went up to the Yankees to sit in the shadow of the flashy Joe Gordon.

Eventually he got his chance and, while they don't class him with the Yankee greats, Snuffy did a job. He led the league in stolen bases in 1944 and 1945, when he won the batting championship, was on the All-Star team in 1946, and in 1948 played a stretch of 71 games in which he handled 382 chances without an error. He had only five errors that whole season.

UCLA to Meet Pittsburgh at LA Coliseum

NEW YORK (UP) — Missouri, Texas, UCLA and Penn State were established the favorites today by the oddsmakers to win four of the big intersectional games on Saturday's first college football weekend involving major teams.

Missouri was made a slim 1-point pick over Vanderbilt for the nationally televised game-of-the-week to be played at Columbia, Mo.

IN THE OTHER intersectional headlines, Texas was picked by 7 over Georgia for their night game at Austin, Tex.; UCLA was 7 over Pittsburgh at Los Angeles, and Penn State was 13 over Nebraska at Lincoln, Neb.

Kansas State was favored by 6 over Wyoming at Manhattan, Kan.; Oklahoma State by 7 over Denver in a regionally televised game at Denver, Colo.; Texas Christian by 7 over Kansas at Lawrence, Kan.; and Rice by 6 over Louisiana State at Houston, Tex. (night), in other intersectional games.

HERE ARE THE point-spreads on other major weekend games: South: Duke 1 over South Carolina; Georgia Tech 6 over Kentucky; Maryland 8 over Wake Forest; Florida 10 over Tulane; North Carolina 13 over North Carolina State; Florida State 14 over Furman; Clemson 21 over Virginia; West Virginia 21 over Richmond.

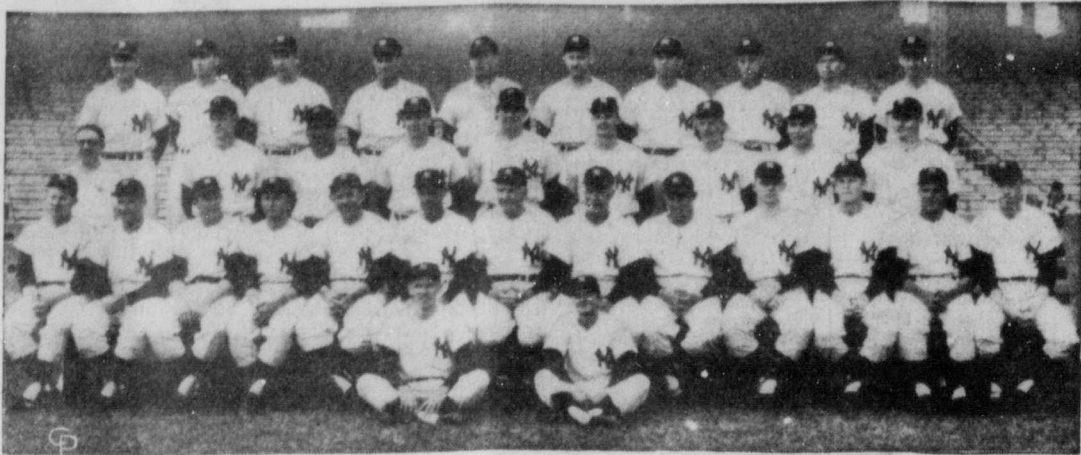

Midwest: Cincinnati 7 over Dayton; Xavier 14 over Kent State; Southwest: Arkansas and Baylor, even; Texas A and M 7 over Texas Tech; Tulsa 7 over Hardin-Simmons.

Pacific Coast: California 8 over College of Pacific; Washington State 8 over Stanford; Oregon 13 over Idaho; Washington 15 over San Jose.

Deer Hunting Conditions Are 'Fair to Good'

Prospects were rated as "fair to good" for deer hunters who'll take to the fields in Riverside County starting Sept. 20.

Department of Fish and Game officials today issued reports on deer conditions as a helpful prelude to the legal deer hunting season, Sept. 20 to Oct. 26.

IN RIVERSIDE County, it was noted, "deer are in good shape." Feed and water conditions were rated as good and most deer are on private land or fire closure areas, the department reported.

In San Bernardino County, deer are reported scattered in high country. Bucks are plentiful in the Big Bear Lake area and a good concentration was marked in the Skyline Drive area, south of the lake.

FISH AND GAME officials also cited a "good concentration" of deer in the Cactus Flat area, north of Baldwin Lake. Fair-to-good hunting areas are San Geronimo Wild, Converse, the north fork of Whitewater and Sugar Loaf.

Hunters were warned of fire hazard, which is greater than normal throughout most of the counties. Hunters were cautioned to frequently check "fire hazard meters" posted by the Forest Service throughout National Forest areas.

Forestry officials also asked hunters to check the U. S. Forest Service for fire closure boundaries and also boundaries of the County Firearms Ordinance closure before they unpack their rifles.

CARDS START DRIVE FOR FOURTH PLACE

By FRED DOWN

United Press International
Smilin' Stan Hack is only minding the store for the St. Louis Cardinals but he aims to show a profit just the same.

Announced as the interim manager when Fred Hutchinson was fired Wednesday, Hack made a successful debut Wednesday night in a 5-3 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Hack's objective is to make up a 2½-game deficit and beat out the Cincinnati Reds for fourth place.

THE LOSS CUT THE Braves' first-place margin over idle Pittsburgh to 5½ games but their magic clinching number is still only three. The Braves can cut it to two when they play the Cardinals again tonight and then could clinch on Friday night.

Ernie Banks hit his 47th homer to lead the Chicago Cubs to a seven-inning, 6-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies in the only other National League game.

THE DETROIT TIGERS beat the New York Yankees, 5-2, and the Boston Red Sox topped the Kansas City Athletics, 4-2, after a 6-3 defeat in the only American League activity.

Rookie Gene Green knocked in two runs with a homer and a triple as the Cardinals kayoted 20-game winner Warren Spahn in six innings and handed the Milwaukee southpaw ace his 11th setback.

Only One Grid Coach Has Kept Losing, Stayed

By TAYLOR BENSON

United Press International
MILWAUKEE (UP) — In big time college football where it is win or else, there apparently is one exception—John Druze of Marquette.

Druze is in the position of having lost 19 straight games, and being up against a "suicide" schedule which holds promise of winning only one of 10 games this year.

ANY OTHER COACH would have been fired or quit a long time ago. But Druze and his boss, Athletic Director Larry "Moon" Mullins give no sign that this will happen at Marquette.

One extreme in Marquette football followers says that if the school experiences a third straight losing season, it will either get a new coach or drop the sport on a big time basis.

The other extreme is typified by the statements of Druze and Mullins.

MULLINS SAYS there has been no pressure put on Druze and he doesn't have to win a certain number of games in order to keep his job.

"We're 100 per cent better than we were two years ago and we're steadily improving. We feel we have the right coach for the job and you can't measure success in two seasons," Mullins said.

Druze, 44, is a former assistant to Frank Leahy when he was at Notre Dame. He also is a former member of Fordham's line which earned the title of the "Seven Blocks of Granite."

THE COACH is given a fighting chance to win only his first game this season, against South Dakota State. From there on in he faces the likes of Wisconsin, Penn State, Boston College, TCU, Cincinnati, Holy Cross, and Arizona State.

One source at Marquette said Druze can win himself another contract by taking four of the 10 games. But this observer had no idea what three teams—besides South Dakota—Druze has a chance of defeating.

'Woman's Touch'

'Bad Boy' Stuart Now 'Good Boy'

By RUDY CERNKOVIC

United Press International
PITTSBURGH (UP) — A woman's touch has transformed Pirate first baseman Dick Stuart from baseball's "bad boy" to an obedient player who wants to make his mark as a major leaguer.

The tall, lean slugger, whose pop-off tactics and frequent defiances stamped him as a controversial player last season, said his blonde bride of four months brought about his reformation.

"LOIS HELPED me understand myself," said Stuart who broke into the majors in mid-July.

"She is sympathetic and determined and helped me change my attitude. She has helped me become a different ballplayer," he confessed.

The attractive Mrs. Stuart, a former airline hostess, met Dick at the Pirate training camp in Ft. Myers, Fla., last March. The couple were married in Salt Lake City on Memorial Day, three months after their first meeting.

STUART WAS newspaper "copy" last year with his controversial manner. He disregarded batting instructions and said he always meant to "aim for the fences."

Big Stu showed little interest in improving his defensive work and delayed his major league debut. But he was shifted from the outfield to first base this season and has shown interest in his new fielding assignment.

"I plan to play winter ball again in the Dominican League under Frank Ocek, the Pirate coach," Stuart said. "I feel I still have a lot to learn about this game."

STUART SAID HIS flareups last year were caused by "personal problems" which he has solved. "Lois has been the inspiration I needed," Stuart said.

Stuart has appeared in more than 60 games with the Pirates and has provided a "climax" touch on numerous occasions with clutch hitting.

Last Friday night Dodger pitcher Roger Craig struck out Stuart four straight times and the following day he went down swinging the first two times at bat to tie a National League record for consecutive fanning.

"I DIDN'T REALIZE that striking out six straight times tied the record," Stuart said. "I thought it was around 11."

Pirate batting coach George Sisler is convinced Stuart will emerge as a solid hitter once certain faults are eliminated. Sisler admitted that Stuart was having difficulty controlling a "hitch" when he swings.

The "new" Stuart demonstrated his anxiety for self-improvement when he cut short the interview. "Gotta pardon me," he said reaching for his glove in the Pirate dugout. "I want to go on the field a little earlier for the drills."

Bill Casper Is Rated New 'King of the Scramblers'

By HAL WOOD

United Press International
VANCOUVER, B. C. (UP) — The new "king of the Scramblers" has to be roly-poly Bill Casper, the big money winner from Apple Valley, Calif.

Casper has taken over the crown from such noted golf course descenders as Doug Ford and Bobby Rosburg.

Wild William has more shots in his bag upon which to call than most pros have ideas. Of course, he's had practice. He has got into more trouble in his few years on the links than most 30-year-old dubs.

"NEVER SAW anything like this guy," says Mike Souckak, not a bad scrambler himself. "He gets into more trouble and comes out smelling like a rose than any man I ever saw."

"Only the fact that he ranks with Dow Finsterwald and Bobby Rosburg as one of the greatest putters in the world keeps him up there on top. And you have to admit he is good—he's always right up there in contention."

CASPER ADMITS he has to scramble, and takes certain pride in his great ability to recover. He was proud of his third round in the $50,000 Vancouver Centennial tournament, for instance, when he got a four-under-par 68 with this record:

1. Drove in trees, recovery went in trap, bogey 6; 2—Tee shot hit a marshland hiding in the trees and bounced out onto the fairway, chipped up for a birdie; 3—Second shot in trap, blasted out for birdie; 4—Tee shot dead behind 40-ft. high tree, in high grass, but teed up. Nine-iron shot hit green, par; 5—"Honest birdie"; 6—Second in trap, but out for par; 7—He got a birdie on a 25-foot putt here, the ball going so fast when it hit the back of the cup that it jumped a foot in the air, then plopped to the bottom; 8—Hit a trap, took bogey; 9—Regulation par. For nine holes: 35, against par 37.

10—OVER GREEN on second, but pitched back to within 10 feet for par; 11—Regulation; 12—Blasted out of trap for birdie; 13—Regulation; 14—Regulation; 15—Regulation; 16—Drive into trees at right, second shot over green, chipped back for 12-foot par putt; 17—Regulation; 18—Two putt for birdie, 33 for round of 68.

For some, this type of play would take the patience of Job. But William is the most relaxed man on the course.

Already this year he has won three major tournaments and has collected $40,000 in prize money. Which is scrambling of the highest order.

Score Denies 'Mental Block'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — Southpaw Herb Score of the Cleveland Indians denied today he has a "mental problem" with his arm and said he is ready to pitch whenever he is called on.

But Cleveland manager Joe Gordon has other ideas. Gordon, who said earlier he believed the young fireballer has a mental block which prevents him from "cutting loose," said Score will see no more action this season.

The 25-year-old hurler has been idled most of the last two seasons, first by an eye injury and recently by elbow trouble.
